

try Have

Home of the men in Wall street district have strange fads, says a New York letter.

J. Pierpont Morgan himself is not free from hobbies. His most noticeable weakness is his love of books. If a book agent can get to him he is sure to make a sale. Mr. Morgan will permit a book agent to engross his time when he would rebuff almost anyone else who attempted to talk to him.

Aside from his libraries, Andrew Carnegie's fad is golf balls and golf clubs. He will purchase offhand any new device or article that is put on the market. A new golf ball, a new driver, cleek, putter, loft or brassie will capture his attention and start him to talk for an hour about its merits. The agents have learned this hobby and never fail to send a salesman to him when they have anything new.

Dumont Clark, a prominent bull trader, in whose honor a town in New Jersey has been named, is an admirer of the beautiful in the floral kingdom and spends many thousands of dollars annually on his mammoth conservatories in Dumont, N. J.

Charles M. Schwab is an enthusiastic collector of all makes and kinds of automobiles. The dealers say he is willing to purchase any machine operated by a motor, provided only that he has not already added one like it to his collection.

Levi P. Morton has the dairy fad. His dairy on his beautiful estate in Rhinecliff, N. Y., is one of the show places of the Hudson.

Washington Connor, the leading specialist in Brooklyn Rapid Transit stock, is an authority on oranges. He has a large orange grove near Tampa, Fla., and ships crates full of the fruit to his friends in this city.

Former Judge W. H. Moore, who owns the controlling interest in the Rock Island railroad, goes in for trotters and show horses.

L. V. Bell is a lover of thoroughbreds. He owned Alcega, who won the Suburban handicap, and Hermis, whom he sold to E. R. Thomas for $80,000.

Jacob Field, the former bear leader of the street, also was interested in racing, but has lost much of his former enthusiasm.

Under the appropriate stable name of "Mr. Cotton," J. Temple Gwathmey, of the cotton exchange, goes in for steeplechasing.

Everybody, of course, knows that James R. Keene, August Belmont, Perry Belmont and Newton Bennington are devoted to horse racing. George Gould's fad is polo. E. H. Harriman is a breeder of horses, especially trotters. He is also an expert driver.

John W. Gates is a lover of all sorts of sports.

A. A. Housman, the head of the stock commission house of that name, is one of the most successful "farmers" in the street. On his magnificent estate in Babylon, L. I., formerly owned by Austin Corbin, Mr. Housman produces all the crops for which Long Island is famous, and makes the business pay so well that he is the subject of admiration at all of the country fairs in which his products are exhibited.

Charles R. Flint will never write a letter or sign his name to a document unless he has ink. The ink is done by hand street has called him with crimson writing and for many years. It is all right for the clerks of the American Trading company, of which Mr. Flint is president, to use blue or black ink, but the boss must have red, and lots of it.

Robert Lecover, a prominent bull trader, is an earnest advocate of the use of paper napkins in hotels and restaurants in place of the linen articles now generally in use. He does not believe the linen napkin is sanitary. So enthusiastic is Mr. Lecover about his pet fad that he carries about with him a bundle which he uses whenever he dines in a restaurant.

Edward J. Berwynd, president of the Berwynd-White Coal Mining company and director in many financial and commercial enterprises, has a fad for collecting clocks. Swiss clocks, colonial clocks, clocks of western and oriental manufacture, striking, ticking, ringing clocks and clocks of all sorts and conditions are collected by Mr. Berwynd and stored in his own house at No. 2 West Sixty-eighth street, which contains many beautiful and costly time-keepers.

CURED OF CHRONIC DIARRHOEA AFTER TEN YEARS OF SUFFERING.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by all leading druggists.

J. J. BERGEN RE-ELECTED.

Virginia, June 30.—The Cass county Sunday school convention closed its session yesterday afternoon. Yesterday's program included a conference on "The Value of an Active, Aggressive County and Precinct Organization," led by G. W. Miller, of Paris, and a discussion on primary work, led by Miss Mabel A. Torrey, of Taylorville. In the afternoon Mr. Miller spoke on "The Teaching Which Our Scholars Need."

John J. Bergen, of this city, was re-elected president of the association. Elb Spink, of Chandlerville, was made vice president, Philip Kuhl, of Beardstown, treasurer, and Rev. R. L. Steed, of Ashland, superintendent of normal work.

INTERVIEWED

Tells of Work of Stationary Engineers and Growth of International Union—Working Through Iowa.

The following notice regarding a fellow townman is taken from a recent issue of the Sioux City (Iowa) Journal:

"The same cool-headedness which is required to run a steam engine is the same qualification which is responsible for the absence of strikes in our union," declared R. E. Polham, of Jacksonville, Ill., general organizer for the International Union of Stationary Engineers, in Sioux City yesterday.

Mr. Polham came here to infuse new life into the local organization, which has been somewhat lax for several months. It has a membership of about fifty stationary engineers.

"There are 50,000 or more stationary engineers in the United States now affiliated with our organization," continued Mr. Polham, "and never since the organization was formed in 1896 have we had a strike, either in the United States or Canada. Well, there was one little sympathetic strike we entered into last winter in Chicago, but that was no grievance of ours and our men were not out very long. I do not mean to say that the I. U. E. has no grievances, but instead of displaying hot-headedness or stubbornness and ordering a strike our officers proceed in a cool and businesslike manner to settle it with the employers. They find men reasonable and willing to listen to them. Our numbers are increasing very rapidly in the United States."

Sioux City has two local organizations of stationary engineers. Besides the order Mr. Polham represents there is the local branch of the National Association of Stationary Engineers. It likewise has a prosperous membership. It is said that the interchange of membership, some belonging to both organizations, is responsible for more or less contention in the ranks of both organizations and for this reason had begun to grow lax in the organization which Mr. Polham represents. He believes, after calling upon many of the leading members, that the society will continue satisfactorily.

Mr. Polham had not been in Sioux City in thirty-two years.

"I was here thirty-two years ago," he said, "on my way to the Dakota territory to fight the Indians. I was a member of the Sixth Infantry, under Gen. W. B. Hazen, whose widow married Admiral Dewey a few years ago. We camped in the Floyd bottom near the mouth of the stream and getting drowned out down there we moved our camp up on the bluff near where the city cemetery is now located. We were here about two weeks and finally went to Fort Buford. That was in 1871. I was discharged in 1876, shortly after the Custer massacre."

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

This remedy is certain to be needed in almost every home before the summer is over. It can always be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is especially valuable for summer disorders in children. It is pleasant to take and never fails to give prompt relief. Why not buy it now? It may save life. Be sure by all leading druggists.

T. P. A. MAY DISBAND.

Chicago, June 30.—The local branch of the Travelers' Protective association, known as "Post C," may disband as the result of the action of the national convention in reinstating National Secretary and Treasurer L. T. La Beume at Springfield last month.

The Chicago post, which has a membership of 652, at its meeting Wednesday night, voted to endorse the report of the directors and to condemn the action of the convention. H. S. Merritt, state president, resigned, as did Frank Wixon, state director, and Cyrus Peterson, president of Post C, these men being antagonistic to La Beume. Thad Howe and K. J. Coyle, members of Post C, spoke against the action of the post.

Those present insisted that the seventeen posts in Illinois, representing 2,900 traveling men, would condemn the action of the convention, and it was openly predicted that a break in the ranks of the organization would begin on July 1, at which time the quarterly dues are to be collected.

FISHING PARTY.

Mrs. Luti K. Hatch will chaperone a small party of young people who expect to spend the day fishing at Moredock's locks. A gasoline launch has been chartered to take the party from Mercersburg to the locks. The members of the party will be Miss Fanita Wei, Miss Helen Hall, Miss Jean King, Miss Elizabeth Mathers and Miss George Hutchinson; Messrs. Abe Gregor, Ralph Dunlap, George Watson, Charles Eames and William Goebel.

WHEELER IS WARDEN.

Springfield, N. Y., Governor Yates Thursday announced the appointment of Dr. J. A. Wheeler, of Sangamon county, to the state penitentiary to succeed A. J. Love, of Winnebago county, resigned. The understanding is that Love's job is to be made plain registrar at Chicago. That the appointment of Dr. Wheeler would be made has been known for several days. It is expected from July 1.

SANTOS DUMONT IS ACCUSED

Sensational Denouement Follows Investigation of Balloon Cutting.

St. Louis, June 30.—M. Alberto Santos-Dumont is accused of having cut his own balloon or having caused it to be cut, in the official report made to President Francis this morning by Col. H. P. Kingsbury, chief of the Jefferson guard at the fair. The chief says:

"In my opinion Santos-Dumont had the balloon cut himself."

This sensational denouement follows the investigation of the balloon cutting mystery at the aerodrome Monday night. The police, taking the same view of it, have dropped their investigation. President Francis asked yesterday that he be supplied with a complete police report on the affair.

Colonel Kingsbury turned in his report this morning. It contains about three thousand words, reviewing the case from the beginning, and concludes with the opinion that the aeronaut had the balloon cut himself, if he did not actually do so himself.

Asked his reason for believing this, Colonel Kingsbury said to the Post Dispatch:

"All the circumstances point to this theory. I do not believe Santos-Dumont ever intended to fly at St. Louis. I think he intends to exhibit his airship here and to charge admission to see it. I think he had it cut so he could have a moral, if not a legal, hold upon the exposition company to grant him a concession to exhibit his ship."

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. A. J. Duncan, in honor of her sixty-first birthday, entertained a number of her lady friends at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred McDougall, on South Main street. The hours were spent in social conversation and at 5 o'clock an elegant supper was served, after which the guests departed leaving behind some beautiful presents and good wishes that their hostess might live to enjoy many more such birthdays.

TREAT YOUR KIDNEYS FOR RHEUMATISM.

When you are suffering from rheumatism the kidneys must be attended to at once so that they will eliminate the uric acid from the blood. Foley's Kidney Cure is the most effective remedy for this purpose. R. T. Hopkins, of Polar, Wis., says: "After unsuccessfully doctoring three years for rheumatism with the best doctors, I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and it cured me. I cannot speak too highly of this great medicine." Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

DINNER PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huffaker gave a dinner party Thursday evening in honor of their guests, Mr. and Mrs. George Barton and Miss Penala Barton, of Kansas City. The dinner was perfect in all its details and an elegant menu was served. The table decorations were very artistic. The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, and will cheerfully testify to the public that it did me more good than all things else put together and am altogether another man. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it. JOHN R. DAVEY, Gracerville, Mo. J. A. OBERMEYER, City Drug Store.

JUNE, 1904, BANNER MONTH.

As a rule the month of June is the banner month for the year for the issuing of marriage licenses. The June of 1904, however, is the banner June for the last five years and the question has been asked, Why? Various reasons might be suggested, but one of the most unkind and ungrateful is that 1904 is leap year.

The records read as follows: Licenses issued in

June, 1900	22
June, 1901	26
June, 1902	27
June, 1903	28
June, 1904	39

City Clerk Stewart has issued but one license. Edward Brown was the person who secured the permit.

THE JULY FORUM.

A new volume of The Forum opens with the July-September issue. The first article, by H. L. West, describes the present outlook in "American Politics," with special attention to the probabilities of the presidential campaign. The course of the war in the east and the changes in the European situation supply material for the greater part of A. Maurice Low's paper on "Foreign Affairs." A. D. Noyes writes on the movements of the last quarter in the department of "Finance," and H. H. Supplee on recent advances in "Applied Science." H. W. Horwill's article on "Literature" is occupied with new books illustrating "The Art of Letter-Writing." The report of the Mosely commission is the main topic of Ossian H. Lang's contribution on "The Educational Outlook," which is followed by Dr. J. M. Rice's discussion of the question, "Why Our Educational Machinery Does Not Yield a Better Product." The two sides of the Panama controversy are presented in papers entitled "The Ethics of the Panama Case," by Prof. J. P. Gordy, and "Justice and Equity in Panama," by Willis F. Johnson. The remaining special articles are "Civil Government in the Moro Province," by H. S. Townsend, and "The Affairs of the Congo State," by S. P. Verrier.

CHILDREN'S PARTY.

A most delightful children's party was given Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edward Epler on South Main street. The hours were from 3 to 5 o'clock and games of a various character were enjoyed.

In the flag race, Paul McKinney won the first prize and Carroll Brown the second prize. Carroll Camborn was the victor in the whistle hunt, and Laura Dye, of Colorado, won the second prize. Each guest present was presented with a flag as a souvenir of the occasion.

Delightful refreshments were served at 5 o'clock and the afternoon passed all too rapidly for the children, who entered heartily into the pleasures of the afternoon.

Mrs. Epler was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. T. P. Carter, Mrs. F. P. Norbury, Mrs. C. G. Camborn, of San Francisco; Mrs. C. M. Brown, Mrs. Hugh Smith, Miss Elizabeth Cleary, Miss Grace Carter, Miss Louise Stryker and Miss Clara Epler, of Virginia.

ONE LADY'S RECOMMENDATION SOLD FIFTY BOXES OF CHAMBERLAIN'S STOMACH AND LIVER TABLETS.

I have, I believe, sold fifty boxes of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets on the recommendation of one lady here, who first bought a box of them about a year ago. She never tires of telling her neighbors and friends about the good qualities of these Tablets.—P. M. Shore, Druggist, Rochester, Ind. The pleasant purgative effect of these Tablets makes them a favorite with ladies everywhere. For sale by all leading druggists.

HOME AGAIN

After a Tour of Fifty-five Days
Capt. Alex. Smith Has Returned
Much Pleased With His Experiences.

Capt. Alex. Smith returned Thursday night from an extended trip through the south, and to a Journal representative said substantially:

"I have been in Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi and have had a right royal time. I have seen Fort Henry, the battle field of Shiloh, the scene of the siege of Corinth, the battle field of Corinth and many other places made memorable during the great conflict. At Florence, Ala., I was most splendidly entertained at the home of the adjutant of O'Neil post, confederate veterans, and he, his wife and daughter did all they could to make my stay pleasant. The daughter is said to be the most beautiful young woman in the state, and I could easily believe it.

At Shiloh I was all over the battle-field and had no trouble in locating the places of importance. I could go to the very spots my regiment occupied and could easily locate the places where we supported the artillery during the days of that dreadful battle.

I spent two days at Nashville during the great confederate reunion and made friends with the old fellows in gray, and we had fine times together, and when they started in the grand parade they drew me into line and I marched with them. I was three weeks at Dawson Springs, Ky., and received much benefit from the waters which have valuable medicinal qualities. At Bailey Springs, Ala., I was with Senator Morgan and had many long talks with him. He told me about his connection with various important measures and I was treated finely by him.

At Florence an old lady had a confederate flag which she valued highly and which brought back many recollections.

At Corinth I was entertained at a hotel situated on the identical spot my regiment occupied in the battle and were driven from it, but regained it again.

Throughout my entire trip I received great courtesy at the hands of the southerners and I shall always remember them kindly.

Everything for the boys to celebrate with at Ledford's.

DUNLAP'S POSITION

Circular Letter Sent to Delegates—Judge Shirley Thinks National Convention will Act.

Springfield, June 30.—Discussing the circular letter of M. F. Dunlap, of Jacksonville, to delegates to the recent Democratic state convention, the friends of Dunlap agree on stating the case as it here follows:

The contest to be brought before the national Democratic committee from Illinois is in no sense a "Hearst" contest. If anything, Hearst will lose in the total number of delegates seated should the contest be decided in favor of the contestants.

It is a continuation of the battle against John P. Hopkins and is a protest against the methods of the Democratic state committee. It is true that M. F. Dunlap, Illinois manager for W. R. Hearst, assumes the lead in the matter, but he is merely a self-appointed leader. For six months he has had his fingers upon the Democratic pulse in every county and is the natural antagonist of Mr. Hopkins and all that the Hopkins element stand for.

In sending out his circular letter and blank petitions to be signed by delegates to the recent Democratic state convention Mr. Dunlap probably believes he represents the wishes of a majority of the legally elected delegates to that convention. He is not bold. His conservatism amounts to timidity. He was inspired by many delegates when the program of the Democratic state committee was made manifest to authorize a bolt from the convention as organized, but he would not assume the responsibility.

The Dunlap petition does not contemplate a contest by districts. It contemplates a contest by a majority of the legally elected delegates to the recent state convention, each man speaking for himself directly to the Democratic national committee and the Democratic national convention.

The anti-Hopkins faction claim the national organization can properly consider a petition from a majority of the delegates to the state convention.

Judge Robert B. Shirley, of Carlinville, a Democrat of state influence, and who was opposed to Hearst instructions and Hearst delegates from Illinois, maintains that where clear evidence of fraud is presented it is the duty, as well as the privilege, of the national body to take cognizance of the charges. He was not present when the state convention met, but from statements made to him by friends he thinks the situation in the state so serious that the national convention should act on the matter.

It is regarded as unfortunate that Mr. Dunlap used his old Hearst letter heads upon which to send his circular letter to the delegates to the state convention. The Hearst question has nothing to do with the points involved. The eight or ten Carter Harrison delegates from Chicago, if admitted, will be against Hearst.

DEATH RECORD

HALPIN.

Mrs. Patrick Halpin died at the family home in Waverly Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the age of 80 years. Death was due to old age, the decedent having steadily declined for the past month. She is survived by two sons, Thomas and Patrick, and one daughter, Mary Ann Halpin. Her husband died many years ago.

Funeral services will be held this morning at 9 o'clock.

TURNER.

Mrs. Asa Turner, an aged resident of Waverly, died at her home in that city early Thursday morning of the infirmities incident to old age. She was born in Morgan county 78 years ago and has lived in this vicinity all her life.

Decedent is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Lou Tulpin.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

CAPPS.

At her home, 837 South Fifth street, Wednesday, June 29, 1904, at 6:55 p. m., Mrs. Laura Lee Capps, widow of John T. Capps, in the sixtieth year of her age.

Scores of people in this city will be pained to learn of this sad event which falls upon the community with a peculiar force, following so closely as it does upon the death of her husband, which occurred just two weeks ago.

Mrs. Capps was a refined and cultured Christian lady and possessed of superior social faculties. Of a serious and thoughtful nature, she was deeply interested in religious and charitable matters. In her early girlhood she united with the First M. E. church in this city and lived her life in strict accordance with the teachings of the denomination she has always loved. For years she was a valued member of the Willing Circle of King's Daughters and of the board of directors of the Home for the Friendless.

She was the daughter of William and Adeline Lee, and was born in this city Oct. 15, 1844. She graduated from the Springfield high school in the class of 1863 and was married to John T. Capps May 7, 1867. A devoted wife and mother, a loyal friend and neighbor, truly it may be said of her, "none knew her but to love her."

She leaves to mourn her loss, her aged mother, Mrs. Lee; two children, Mrs. W. Irwin, of Chicago, and W. Lee Capps, of this city; three grandchildren, John and Wesley Irwin and Catherine Capps; two brothers, Thomas E. Lee, of this city, and Edward W. Lee, of Chicago; and these, together with many other relatives, have the sympathy of the entire community in their double bereavement. —Springfield Journal.

CONFERENCE OF CHARITIES

Hon. Ensley Moore Tells of the Work of the Association—Will Meet Next Year in Portland Oregon.

Ensley Moore returned Wednesday from Portland, Me., where he attended the national conference of charities and corrections, from June 15 to June 22.

Among the prominent persons present were: President J. B. Bruckett, of Boston; Dr. Fred H. Wines, of New Jersey; Frank B. Sanborn, of Boston, and Joseph R. Byers, of Philadelphia. From Illinois were Drs. Corbus and Athol, Frank D. Whipp, Mrs. Amigh, Mrs. George M. Moulton, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Right, of Woodstock; W. W. Watson, of Barry, and George L. Merrill, of this city.

The conference had a membership of 730 persons and met in the splendid city hall of Portland, which was beautifully decorated with the national colors and with flowers renewed daily. There was also a good attendance of the citizens upon the general sessions.

On Saturday an excursion was given to the delegates down Casco bay, one of the most charming waters in the world, dotted, it is said, with an island for every day in the year. The people of Portland were polite and attentive to their visitors, among them being Miss E. R. Taylor, superintendent of the Maine School for the Deaf, and Freeman Gowen, chief entertainer for the city. Many delegates took side trips to various points by boat and rail—many to Boston by boat. It is said one Illinoisan felt quite a distance from his native land on the voyage to Boston.

A large part of the time of the conference was given to various phases of the charitable and correctional care of children.

Mr. Moore also visited the Maine Industrial School for Girls at Hallowsell, the site of the famous quarries of granite. He also took a day's excursion up into the White mountains after the conference concluded its work. He was retained for the ensuing year upon one of the leading standing committees of the association.

Mrs. Moore accompanied Mr. Moore and they made two short stops in Boston going and coming.

Next year the conference will go to the other side of the continent and meet in Portland, Ore., which outbid Minneapolis and Philadelphia as the meeting place.

PUBLIC IMPOSITION.

To the public: The undersigned business men of this city, engaged in the hotel and restaurant business, would most respectfully protest as to the action of certain church organizations in endeavoring to unjustly secure the public patronage of visitors who will be in the city on the 4th of July.

It should be known to the public that these church organizations have persistently refused heretofore to donate any of the funds necessary to make entertainments on 4th of July occasions a success. It was primarily the policy of the Business Men's association, who have been instrumental in making the coming celebration a success, to retain exclusively for themselves the profits that might accrue as a result of money being spent here on the 4th of July. For that reason it was understood that all privileges that interfere with the business interests would not be permitted. We are informed that one organization has secured a room on the south side of the square for the purpose on that day of serving meals to the general public. It is quite evident that this license comes in direct competition with the hotel and restaurant keepers of this city, who have liberally contributed toward the success of this occasion. It would seem to the undersigned that the purpose of church organizations and lodges should be conducted solely to a view of advancing a charitable and Christian interest and not for the purpose of conducting business for profit to the detriment of our business men. Very respectfully,

T. J. Packard,
James E. Babb,
Tim D. Phelps,
E. M. Henderson,

"CORN GOSPEL TRAIN"

Professor Holden's Plan of Work
Among Iowa Farmers.

SIMPLE LESSON IN GOOD FARMING

Railroads of the State Provided Special Trains—Lectures Delivered and Practical Demonstrations Made From Rear End Platforms—Greatest Benefit Derived From Object Lessons as to Good and Bad Seeds.

The following is taken from an article entitled "A Corn Gospel Train," by F. G. Moorehead, in the World's Work for June:

Corn is our greatest crop. Iowa produces more corn than any other state or country in the world, but its yield did not satisfy Mr. F. G. Holden, professor of agronomy at the Iowa State Agricultural college. In 1902 the average yield for each acre was thirty-four bushels. In 1903 the average yield was thirty-one bushels. Professor Holden said, "Why, with good weather, should the high yield not only be maintained, but increased?" An increase of only one bushel an acre, using last year's crop as basis, would mean an increase for 1904 of 7,398,200 bushels, worth $2,000,305.20 at market price last December.

Professor Holden began to experiment with corn from Iowa and other corn producing states. After a year of planting and growing he found that with proper seed corn and right planting the yield increased. These scientific tests, made at the state experimental station, showed that the increase would range from five to ten bushels per acre for the fertile fields and from two to five bushels per acre for the less favored soil. The secret of the desired increase, therefore, was in the education of the corn growers. Convinced of this fact, he continued his experiments and his comparisons. In 1903 Green and Winnebago counties had the poorest average of productivity to the acre—twenty bushels—yet the year before Green county had produced thirty-one bushels to the acre and Winnebago county thirty bushels. It was a significant change.

Iowa produces more than one-seventh of all the corn grown in the United States. Professor Holden believed that Iowa could produce millions more bushels of corn than any other state without exhausting the soil. He showed the Iowa State Agricultural college students how to select the proper seed corn and how to plant it, but the students were only a small proportion of the vast number of corn growers in the state. If his scientific experiments were to be of value they must be generally known.

Professor Holden established corn judging contests at the state fair annually held in Des Moines. Scholarships in the State Agricultural college were offered as prizes to the farm lads, within certain ages, who brought from their homes the best ears of corn and gave their reasons for the selection, together with information as to selecting and planting seed corn. "The contests quickly grew in favor, but the work did not reach the great body of farmers throughout the state.

Professor Holden then explained his crop increase plan to the leading freight carrying roads traversing the state. At first they doubted, then became interested and finally entered into the proposition enthusiastically. The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway was the first to offer a special train and to guarantee the expenses of the trip. The offer was accepted by Professor Holden.

The "corn gospel train," as it was called, started in central Iowa, and it was run on time table schedule. Two weeks before the train started the list of all starting places and the schedule time of arrival there were announced on handbills and by notices sent by the rural free delivery of mail to every farmer in territory contiguous to the Rock Island route. Half hour stops were made for every town. Professor Holden was accompanied by Professor Sage and his assistants, railway officials and newspaper representatives.

Attached to the special train was a large audience car, and in this Professor Holden lectured to the farmers who met him at every station. When the crowd was too large for the car, overflow meetings were held on the station platforms. Frequently the assistants would be called upon to repeat the message to those on the outskirts of the crowd who could not hear Professor Holden. The average attendance at the stations was 100. When a twenty minute address was completed, Professor Holden conducted a short question parliament, specimens of good and bad seed corn were exhibited, and, with a last farewell and a cheer from the farmers, the train departed for the next station.

At the end of the third day of the trip 450 miles had been traveled, fifty stations visited, sixty lectures delivered, aggregating eighteen hours of talking, fifteen Iowa counties had been crossed and the message of proper planting carried to the tillers of 8,000,000 acres of Iowa farm land, of which fully one-third is devoted to corn growing.

When the Rock Island tour was completed, another was immediately begun on the Des Moines, Iowa Falls and Northern railway. The third trip was made on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad. Nearly one-half of the ninety-nine counties, embracing 150 farming communities in the state were visited, and 15,000 growers more than one-half of the corn growers of the state were personally interested. At the conclusion of his first trip Professor Holden said that he believed the yield this year will be increased from five to ten bushels per acre in the districts traversed by him. When the last trip was completed, he estimated that the average state increase would be three bushels to the acre, which would bring the 1904 average yield up to the 1902 average and increase the 1903 aggregate value of the corn crop, at the last year's figures, by nearly $8,000,000.

The greatest practical benefit of the tour resulted from the object lessons as to the good and the bad seed corn, which taught the farmer to judge his seed carefully, to know what to use and what to throw away. It was a simple lesson in good farming.

Next fall Professor Holden intends to travel over the entire state. Such a tour will not only help the farmer to test his corn, but to select it in the fall for spring planting, thus following the great Iowa crop from the very first steps to the last.

MUSIC AS A BAIT.

Mrs. Holbrook Tells How It Lures Mosquitoes and Mice to Doom.

Music hath power to charm the baleful mosquito and lure him to electrocution, according to Mrs. Amelia Weed Holbrook, who read a paper on the curative properties of music before the Professional Woman's league in New York the other day, says the New York Herald.

"It has been discovered that the hearing apparatus of this little nuisance," said Mrs. Holbrook, "is attuned to catch sounds, and these can be made to vibrate to the pitch of certain musical notes. When these are sounded the entire nervous system of the insect is affected, and when raised to a great number of vibrations a second, yet in harmony with the lower note, the mosquito becomes paralyzed."

"When the note is sounded the mosquito will plunge toward the music, and if the windows are opened from the outside the insects will fill the room and will precipitate themselves against the apparatus. The method provides for the setting up of a musical instrument that will vibrate at the proper pitch to attract the mosquitoes and to surround it with a wire screen charged with electricity, so that as the mosquitoes plunge against the screen they will be electrocuted."

Not only mosquitoes but mice are to be caught through their musical tastes. Mrs. Holbrook described a trap that, instead of being baited with cheese, has hidden in a double bottom a small musical box which plays automatically all the popular airs. The mouse, charmed by these sounds, ventures nearer and nearer and at last pops into the trap seeking a reserved seat. The music goes on, but there is no exit for the mouse. He is condemned to listen to the music until he is taken from the trap to meet his death.

The painful and discordant howling of children may be turned to music if mothers adopt the plan recommended by a mother's club. This was to have a tuning fork ready and to give the child the proper note when it began to cry. "If your baby must cry, let it cry artistically," say the mothers.

KOREA'S NATIONAL SPORT.

Stone Throwing, at Which the Natives Are Expert.

Nearly every people on earth has a distinctive means of amusing itself—some game more or less hazardous, but requiring skill in the player. The English are devoted to cricket, the Americans to baseball. The natives of Korea, prefer to indulge in stone throwing, at which they are phenomenally expert, says the Chicago Chronicle. Travelers soon learn of the art acquired by stone fighters, though there is but one day of the year given over to it. If any one offends a Korean he answers with a stone. During the Chino-Japanese war the latter found their greatest difficulty in dodging missiles from roof tops and trees. All classes indulge the habit. It is said of a Korean woman that she never fails to throw a stone straight. Within bounds she is as expert as a man. The childhood pleasure of skipping stones along the surface of streams is as well known to the Korean as to the Yankee.

On stone throwing day, however, she is restricted to curfew time for her pleasure as upon other days. In the Land of the Morning Calm women are allowed on the streets only during curfew time, between twilight and early forenoon. During the day they are in seclusion.

In anticipation of the stone throwing fete the natives save all shapes and kinds of rocks. Even the smallest child has his stone pile and takes pride in it. They practice diligently, aiming at different targets. Often a heap man like a scarecrow is rigged up, and the entire family use him for a fake enemy to be demolished by stones. Other targets are mandarin ducks, good luck geese and foreign soldiers made of cotton and wool paper.

In preparing for the fete towns and villages put aside a goodly sum of money for the wounded and to buy prizes for the champions.

Do We Eat Too Much?

Physiologists say that the Japanese present the most perfect physique of any race in the world, writes Robert Webster Jones in the June Housekeeper. Most of the diseases common to the occident are unknown among the subjects of the mikado, and this happy condition they themselves attribute to the fact that they eat sparingly and only of plain, nourishing food. A Japanese visiting in this country is appalled at the quantity of food consumed by his host in one day. Especially is he impressed with the extravagance of our poorer people. In Japan meat once a day is a luxury even among the well-to-do.

Her Reasons For Thinking Mrs. Wibbersleigh Despicable.

"I don't see why you should think Mrs. Wibbersleigh doesn't know anything. You know, she is a graduate of Vassar and is one of the leading spirits in the Woman's club."

"Well, she's so stuck up. She wants to put on so, without any reason for it."

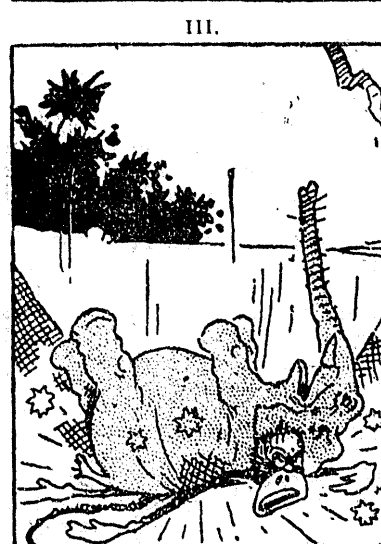

"Oh, dear! I never noticed that she was that kind of a woman. I thought she was just the other way. Her father, you know, is a millionaire, and here she is living in a very modest way, getting along with one servant and apparently doing her best to live on her husband's salary, which can't be so very large, seeing that he's nothing but a professor."

"I haven't any patience with a woman who tries to make you always think that what she has is so much better than what other people have. She's such a namby pamby, selfish creature."

"Why, really, you surprise me. I had supposed she was anything but that. You know, she works regularly in one of the settlements, and it would make you happy to see her there fondling those poor little ragged children the way she does and acting as if they were just as dear to her as her own are."

"Gracious! I didn't suppose she would even touch another woman's child. She won't let her play with mine!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Strawberry Pudding.

Line a buttered pudding dish with stale sponge cake or with ladyfingers, sprinkle the cake generously with chopped almonds and fill the dish with fresh sweetened strawberries. Beat the yolks of three eggs with half a cupful of sugar until light, add the juice of an orange, pour over the fruit in the dish and bake slowly until the top is a light brown. Take from the stove while making the meringue for the top. Beat the whites of three eggs to a stiff froth, add three rounding tablespoons of sugar, vanilla to flavor and spread irregularly over the top. Stick a number of blanched almonds into the meringue and bake in a slow oven until firm.

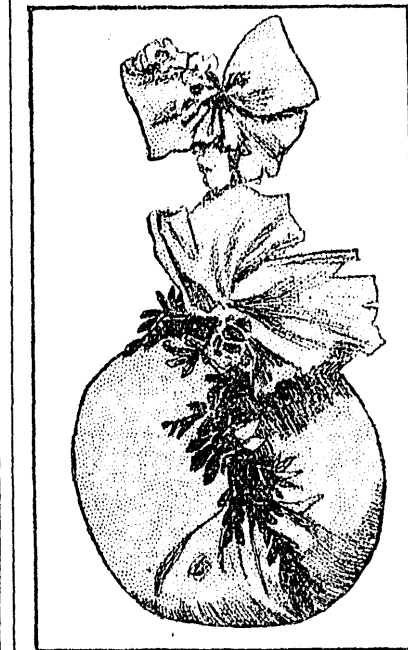

Cues For Old Stockings.

One pair, split and folded into a neat square the size of the hand, can be quilted and bound for an iron holder. A piece of asbestos cloth laid between the folds of the stocking will add to the value of the holder. Three or four lisle or thin cotton legs sewed together will make the best of mirror or window polishers because they shed no lint. Four or five pairs sewed into long strips and slipped through the mop will make scrub cloths. Wool stockings should be cut lengthwise, rolled up and saved for polishing shoes, for which they have no equal.

Perfuming Clothes Closets.

A great many women like a delicate perfume about their clothes and rooms who have not the time to make satin bags and silk cases for housing it. And so along comes the accommodating pad of paper sachets trimmed with paper flowers or just tied with a knot of wash ribbon or even a paper bow.

You get lamp shade paper of the color you like best, cut a large circle of it, put over the paper a thin layer of cotton sprinkled with powder, cover with a second layer of cotton, rough side on the powder, then draw up together about two inches from the edge and tie with ribbon or cord. If you have a paper flower fasten at the gathering. Pull out the raw edge of the paper into a ruffle and hang up by ribbon or cord.

The scent easily escapes from the paper bag, yet not too swiftly, and the pretty color is as charming as the perfume is delightful in closet or corner of room.

Preserving Eggs.

Take a piece of lime, pour cold water over it, when it will roll out white as snow and be powdery. This is slaking it. Measure one pint of it and put in a stone jar with half pint of table salt and three gallons of cold water after it (the lime) gets cold. Put down cellar and add eggs till within an inch of top. Cover, and if not used for some time a scum of salt will rise, but is all right. The rest will settle to the bottom, leaving water clear. The eggs may be put all at once or added daily.

To Remove Iron Rust.

Iron rust is stubborn, but it will come out of white goods with lemon juice, salt and sunshine. Saturate the spots with the juice, coat thickly with salt and lay where the strongest sunlight will fall on it for five or six hours. If not of long standing, a soak in sweet milk until the milk sours will cause the stain to disappear. Much of the iron rust on clothing comes from using an inferior blue, whose chemical ingredients mix with starch and produce iodide.

For the Amateur Nurse.

Do not leave bottles where the patient can see them.

Never leave any liquid uncovered in the room.

Have plenty of ventilation, but no air blowing directly on the patient.

Have the bed away from the wall, so you may get at all sides of it.

Have everything you use fresh and clean and always plenty of hot water at hand.

Never allow tobacco to be used in the sickroom.

To Increase Closet Room.

When "hanging space" is insufficient in the closet as usually arranged a hint may be taken from the show frames in the stores. By placing a wooden or iron bar across from end to end and using coat hangers double if not triple the quantity of suits or gowns can be accommodated without crushing or tumbling.

Care of the Teapot.

The lid of a teapot should always be left so that air gets in. Slip in a piece of paper to keep it open. This prevents mustiness. The same rule applies to a coffeepot.

ACTED STRANGELY

Police Arrested Man on Morton Avenue Who Had Escaped From Central Hospital.

The police were notified Thursday that a strange acting man had been lurking in the vicinity of the C. & A. culvert south of Morton avenue for several days. Policeman Preston, going to the place, found the man under the culvert and took him in charge. At the police station the man was questioned and proved to be possessed of delusions of a various character, the strongest being that he was divinely led.

After considerable questioning, he said that he was 56 years old and his name was William Callander; that he had been sent to Central hospital from Tazewell and Peoria counties; had been confined in the main building, and later in the annex, and had escaped some days ago. During the time that he was at large, he said, he had eaten but once.

The man's clothing bore the Central hospital marks and the authorities there were notified and sent down two attendants, who recognized the patient and returned him to the asylum. He was weak from lack of food and exposure, but otherwise seemed to be in good physical condition.

HEAVY HAIL STORM

Damages Crops in Neighborhood of Sinclair Thursday Afternoon—Corn and Small Fruits Injured.

The citizens residing two miles southwest of Sinclair experienced a heavy hail storm Thursday afternoon about 2 o'clock. Although it lasted only fifteen minutes the ground was covered to a depth of about one inch, and on the west side of buildings attained a depth of about four inches. The hail stones were uniform in size, ranging from the size of a lemon drop to that of a marble. All trees except the maple were stripped of more than half their foliage. Much damage was also done to growing corn and small fruit.

In the vicinity of Jacob Strawn's farm, six miles northeast of the city, the hail storm assumed larger proportions. Two hundred acres of corn on the farm were destroyed, foliage was cut from the trees and a number of cherry trees were broken down.

The season thus far has been of a most peculiar character and the cool nights are very unusual for this period of the year. The amount of rainfall has hindered the work in the fields and all indications point to a backward season.

HONOR FOR ROSS FRAMPTON.

Pike County Republican: Prof. John Ross Frampton, who graduated this year from the Oberlin, Ohio, Conservatory of Music, arrived at his home in Pittsfield Saturday, coming by way of the world's fair. He was accompanied by his teacher, Prof. George W. Andrews, who returned to Oberlin Monday. Professor Andrews is one of the leading musicians of the country, and last week gave two recitals on the great pipe organ at Festival hall. Recently he completed the composition of his first organ sonata, considered by many able critics to be his masterpiece. The composition was dedicated to Mr. Frampton, which rare compliment, needless to say, the latter highly appreciates. Mr. Frampton included this number in his graduation recital, at which time he received the degree of Mus. Bac. This term completes Mr. Frampton's eighth successive year of collegiate study of music, and he is considered by his Oberlin instructors to be one of the most talented students that ever graduated from that institution. Last February, Ross accepted a position as instructor in organ music and theory with the conservatory of Iowa college at Grinnell, and will commence his work there this fall.

Mr. Frampton was formerly a student in Illinois college and has many friends here who will be pleased to learn of the honor he has received.

How to Attract Hornets and Bees.

Last summer Ned went to the country to visit his cousin Will, and one day the two boys walked out into the woods. They were sitting on a log, poking around with a stick, when suddenly a crowd of yellow jackets swarmed out from a hole, intent upon punishing the disturbers of their peace. Ned took to his heels and ran, waving his hat in all directions, while Will stood perfectly still. The bees pursued poor Ned and stung him frightfully and paid absolutely no attention to Will.

This will invariably happen. If you keep perfectly quiet bees will seldom attack you, but if you run they will surely follow.

PAGODA IS DEDICATED

Central Park Thronged With People Thursday Evening—Splendid Addresses and Fine Concert by Jeffries' Band.

Thursday evening was the time selected by the park committee for the formal opening and dedication of the pagoda in Central park, and early in the evening crowds began to assemble in anticipation of the event. By 8 o'clock, the time of commencing the program, several thousand people were packed about the pagoda and hundreds more thronged every part of the square and adjacent thoroughfares.

The exercises were of an interesting character, consisting of a concert by Jeffries' full band and speeches by Mayor John H. Davis, Judge Charles A. Barnes and Hon. H. M. Ticknor.

The program opened with two band numbers, after which Mayor Davis made a few introductory remarks. He stated that Professor Jeffries and the gentlemen of his band gave the concert gratis. In speaking of recent improvements in parks and in other departments, he said that Jacksonville is the prettiest city in the state of Illinois. "We are proud when strangers tell us what a beautiful city it is that we call our home. Two gentlemen from Cleveland, Ohio, who were in the city recently, said that almost any street in the city was the equal of the famous Euclid avenue of Cleveland, which is known throughout the country as one of the most beautiful of avenues."

"You are proud of your city and I believe you appreciate the improvements which the council has from time to time made. I feel that the public does not object to the expenditure of money when they get some good return for it. I am satisfied that the people appreciate the appearance of the parks. Through the generosity of Mr. Nichols has been made possible the starting of a park that bids fair to become one of the most beautiful in the state."

"Jacksonville is entering, upon a new era, and I believe will rank with the best cities in the state. I expect to see the park system extend from the Hickory school to the pumping station."

Mr. Davis then introduced Judge Charles A. Barnes, who spoke eloquently of the future of Jacksonville:

"I want to talk to you of the city in which you live. A prophet is not without honor except in his own country, and this is also true about the cities in which we make our homes. Few realize what a really beautiful city this is that we call our own. It is rightly called the 'Athens of the West' for there is no other city in the United States of similar size which furnishes such opportunities for education and culture."

"There is no other city in the United States of its size where the per cent of residents who own their own homes is so large. In no other city are flowers and other ornamental features so largely cultivated."

"If I have said in the past anything against this pagoda, I take it back, for its beauty and symmetry add immeasurably to the beauty and attractiveness of our little park. And then it is practical. Just the thing we need for band concerts and public speaking. The thanks of the citizens are due the council for providing this and other improvements, such as the electric arches, and the pagoda at Duncan park, and the improvements at Nichols park. Such things indicate that there is still left in Jacksonville an idea of progress and of getting out of the ruts."

"Let us always have a good word to say for our city, whether at home or abroad, for this is what makes a city grow."

Hon. H. M. Ticknor was the introduced and offered a few happy thoughts on "The Greater Jacksonville."

"I did not know there were so many people in Jacksonville until I looked out over the great throng here assembled. This great gathering clearly shows how heartily the people approve of this pagoda and other similar improvements."

"If there is anyone here who, after having seen this beautiful structure, would wish to get out an injunction against it, let him raise his hand. There being no response, we take it as granted that there is no such person present."

"Do not criticize too severely our city and officials, for it reacts upon the welfare and good name of the city. Eight or ten years ago the forward movement was lacking, but, thanks to recent administrations, we have again taken up the march of progress. It lies with us what the greater Jacksonville will be."

"Decatur and Springfield have gone ahead of us because of their determination to go ahead. We can surpass them in many respects. Each one of you go away from here to night with the determination in your hearts that you will ever do your best to boost the city, and I will warrant that her population will double in ten years."

The band then completed the musical program, the full list of numbers being as follows:

March—A Missouri Mule Blake
Overture—Poet and Peasant ... Von Suppe
Intermezzo—Nyla Smith
The American Patrol Meacham
Sacred selection—Joy to the World ...
..... Barnhouse
Morean Characteristic—Dawn of Love
..... Bendix
A Nareissus Nevin

b. Kokomo, a Japanese Serenade .. Sutton
Tono Pictures of the North and South.

The pagoda is indeed a beautiful structure and would be an ornament to any park. Its lines are graceful, the symmetry of the whole giving a very pleasing effect. It was built from plans of C. W. Buckingham by N. B. Plummer, the sub-contractors being Banta & Armstrong, painting; J. E. Brennan, slating, and G. A. Sieber, wiring.

The electric arches were also illuminated for the first time and made a brilliant display. The completion of these improvements puts the square in first class shape for celebrations, carnivals, meetings and public gatherings of all kinds. Arrangements are being made for the giving of a band concert on one night of each week. If the crowd of last night is to be taken as an indication of the interest in the proposition, it will undoubtedly prove exceedingly popular.

ATTENDED THE OPENING.

The opening of the plant of the Whitehall Stoneware and Sewer Pipe company was held Thursday and a large number from this city were in attendance. The program had been prepared with a great deal of care and everything was arranged for the pleasure and comfort of the visitors.

SAFEGUARD THE CHILDREN.

Notwithstanding all that is done by boards of health and charitably inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during the hot weather of the summer months in the large cities. There is not probably one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Mr. Frank Riggs, of Franklinville, N. Y., in speaking of this remedy, said: "I have found it expedient to have a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand. It has been a family safeguard and while especially beneficial to children, it is equally good in adult cases. I recommend it cheerfully and without reservation." For sale by all leading druggists.
